Gallery Talk: Connecting with Collectors (What's Hot And What's Not) by Marlene Kort

Colorado Springs, April 24 - Artist Marlene Kort, a Canadian-born artist known for her pastel colorist style, premieres her newest collection of Colorado Landscapes at a special afternoon Gallery-Talk at Hunter-Wolff Gallery.

Come and experience Marlene's unmistakable fervor while she takes you on a mini-vacation through her paintings across Colorado on Saturday, April 24 from 2 – 4 pm at Hunter-Wolff Gallery. Marlene will discuss her newest collection, Savoring Colorado, and the technique of underpainting, layering and blending of colors. She will address several topics include why it is important for her to create with an emotional connection to the subject, how she communicates a positive energy in her paintings for the viewer, and what elements make a good painting.

The Gallery Talk session is planned to allow the audience to ask questions for a response. Marlene's down-to-earth nature combined with her beautiful art work is a perfect medley to satisfy a craving for uplifting art and a desire to learn from an artist with years of experience and wisdom. Be the first in line to enjoy a perfect antidote to an ordinary afternoon surrounded by awe-inspiring original art.

Referring to Marlene's exhibit, Gallery owner Sharon Wolff says —"We sometimes forget how moving the simplest things in everyday life can be, like two colorful Adirondack chairs in a garden. Marlene reminds us of all the beauty around us and uproots forgotten memories that bring a smile to our face. She brings real day-to-day life occurrences and objects to our attention for a lasting impression, allowing us take a temporary leave of absence from our chaotic and stressful world."

Marlene Kort will be available for this special Gallery Talk presentation on Saturday, April 24 from 2 – 4 pm at Hunter-Wolff Gallery, 2510 W. Colorado Avenue, Colorado Springs in Old Colorado City.
