"Relief" Workshop at Hunter-Wolff Gallery

A two-day hands-on sculpting experience and workshop with Sculptor Adam Long

Day 1: Wednesday, August 2, 2017 from 11 am-5 pm

Day 2: Saturday, August 5, 2017 from 9 am-11 am

$120 Two-Day Workshop

Includes all materials needed to create one relief sculpture, i.e., sculpting clay, tools, instructional handouts, and refreshments!

“Working with clay offers unlimited options for expression that are simple to achieve. Working in “relief” can often be more satisfying than working in “the round” since the most challenging aspects of sculpting are solved by the relief format.” says Adam Long. Participants will build on basic principles while pursuing individual expression. You will learn the basics of sculpting, mold making and casting a wall-hanging. In this workshop you will find working with clay rewarding and more fun.

Everyone can do it. All ability levels are welcome! You will receive instruction as you sculpt, learn to create a simple mold and cast your own wall hanging artwork. Reserve your seat today to create a finished sculpture suitable for hanging. All materials are included in the cost of the workshop.

Don't miss this great opportunity! For ages 18 and up. Limited seating.
